

Best Student Presentation Form

Pathway:	SMP
Student's Name:	Wanwan Zhu
University:	Leeds
Presentation Title:	CEO Succession in Large U.S. Listed Banks: Do Successor Characteristics Matter?
Reason why selected as winner:	Good presentation to an interdisciplinary audience Using financial analysis to explore a managerial / organisation impact phenomenon was interesting.

Best Student Presentation Form

Pathway:	Wellbeing, health and communities
Student's Name:	John Dotse
University:	Sheffield
Presentation Title:	Validation of driver behaviour questionnaire in Ghana
Reason why selected as winner:	Good context setting Engaging and confident style Excellent slides Very good handling of questions Very important topic with high potential impact

Best Student Presentation Form

Pathway:	Data, communication and new technology
Student's Name:	Stefan Vollmer
University:	Leeds
Presentation Title:	Exploring the digital literacy practices of Rojan - a newly arrived Syrian refugee
Reason why selected as winner:	Critical engagement with data and reflexivity on its analysis Very good engagement with questions

Best Student Presentation Form

Pathway:	Cities, Environment and Liveability
Student's Name:	Fatima Ajia
University:	Sheffield
Presentation Title:	A systematic review of public engagement plans for water demand reduction in the UK
Reason why selected as winner:	V clear and informative Great engagement with the audience

Best Student Presentation Form

Pathway:	Education, Childhood and Youth
Student's Name:	Rowling Hu
University:	York
Presentation Title:	Examining the effects of IELTS preparation courses
Reason why selected as winner:	Clear structure Confident, articulate Dealt with questions well Panel learned a lot

Best Student Presentation Form

Pathway:	SCJ and SSDD
Student's Name:	Eric Hoddy
University:	York
Presentation Title:	Being Postdisciplinary About 'Transformative Justice'
Reason why selected as winner:	Eric's presentation spoke to some of the challenges of inter-disciplinary research that we want to encourage